

Unpleasant situations (children/adolescents)

You and your friends have plans to go to a movie, but your parents don't allow you to go	You received a bad grade in your favorite subject at school
You find out that another student is wearing the same shirt as you do	You cannot go on a class trip because you got sick
You were invited to a classy restaurant, but you don't have any proper clothing	You were invited to a birthday party, but you don't have any money for a present
You meet your future parents-in-law for the first time, but you are late	Your friends know that you are a vegetarian, but prepared a meal with meat anyway
You are on your way to a job interview, but notice at the last minute that you have a noticeable stain on your jacket	You meet with friends to discuss vacation plans, but everybody talks so much that you can't get a word in
You find out that your girlfriend re-gifted the present you gave her recently	You have to walk a long way; it begins to rain and you didn't bring a rain jacket
You forgot your best friend's birthday	You were looking forward to a soccer game, but your friends don't let you take part in it
You mention to your friends that you saw a particular movie recently, but when they ask you about it, you can't remember anything specific	You told your friends that you play the guitar well, but when you all get together to play music, you constantly make mistakes